

Come on closer

Finger touched
and walking slow
a course to leave
let heaviness grow
words in dark
from unspoiled eyes

I need you to
seize the day
got lost somewhere
along it's way
lispering thoughts
in my head
flops to the bed

Come on closer to me now
come on let me show you how closer to me now

The air is salt
from your face
surrender in
the breathing space
carry heaven
off it's feet

A soul deep spot
in the waking light
my sleeping heart
talks back you might
put the world
to rest tonight
by my side
